For Immediate Release

The San Luis Obispo County Farm Bureau welcomes Annalisa Marie Clarke – Outreach Coordinator, as our newest team member. Born and raised in Los Gatos, Annalisa Clarke was “knee-deep” in agriculture from an early age. Her involvement in 4-H and other leadership and community service organizations gave Ms. Clarke the opportunity to explore many facets of agriculture while developing an appreciation for its goods and services. Ms. Clarke is no stranger to Farm Bureau. One of her college internships was coordinated with the San Luis Obispo County Farm Bureau serving as the Membership Chair in 2003. A Cal Poly Agribusiness graduate, Ms. Clarke began her career in finance serving in a managerial position as Assistant Vice President for her company’s central coast agricultural lending division cultivating a large and diverse portfolio of growers and agribusiness clients. Her philanthropic work through Rotary included serving as the Public Relations director for her club as well as volunteer work with local Non-Profit Organizations. As the Outreach Coordinator for the San Luis Obispo County Farm Bureau, she will be responsible for managing membership services and public relations. In her free time, you may find Ms. Clarke running with her Black Lab “Ace”, hiking a local trail or shopping a local Farmer’s Market.
