

Farmer Bureau Members Receive Bigger Discounts on Auto Insurance

As you may already be aware, Nationwide and Allied Insurance are offering Farm Bureau voting members an even bigger reason to join—a bigger discount. The discount for voting members with a personal auto policy is now 12½%. If you are not insured with Nationwide or Allied, now is the time to ask for a free rate quote. It could save you hundreds of dollars. To assist you, we have developed a few frequently asked questions.

Frequently Asked Questions

1. Question: What vehicles qualify for the discount?

Answer: Any vehicle written in a personal auto policy of voting members.

2. Question: Must I be a voting member?

Answer: Only voting members qualify for the discount. Records indicate that voting members have fewer accidents and are a reduced risk; therefore Nationwide/ Allied can offer an increased discount to those members.

3. Question: Do my family members also qualify for the discount?

Answer: Yes, family members whose family membership is tied to a voting member of Farm Bureau and those family members 18 years and younger living at home, or 24 years and under if a full-time college student qualify for the discount.

4. Question: Is there a maximum savings?

Answer: There is no maximum dollar savings. It is a flat 12½% discount from your policy for qualifying drivers.

5. Question: What if I am not currently insured with Nationwide or Allied?

Answer: Check the list of Allied brokers at
